IGNITING CURIOSITY

FYUGP Fosters a Culture of Academic Freedom

The Four-Year Undergraduate Program (FYUGP) breaks traditional academic boundaries, offering students unmatched flexibility to explore subjects beyond their major.

Minor Courses: A Treasure Trove of Knowledge

With 51 minor courses at their fingertips, students can delve into uncharted territories, selecting from a diverse range of subjects that complement their major. Chinmaya Arts and Science College's six departments offer a tantalizing array of minor papers, from the fascinating world of biotechnology to the captivating realm of film appreciation.

Navigating the FYUGP Landscape

Students can choose from three pathways: Single Major, Major with Minor, and Major with Multidisciplinary, each tailored to their unique academic aspirations. With a credit system that rewards exploration and excellence, students can complete their degree in three or four years, accumulating a treasure trove of knowledge and skills.

Foundation Courses: The Building Blocks of Success

FYUGP's foundation courses provide a solid academic foundation, equipping students with essential skills and knowledge. From language skills and multidisciplinary topics to value-added skills and skill enhancement, these courses empower students to succeed in their chosen fields.

A New Frontier in Undergraduate Education

FYUGP's innovative approach heralds a new era in undergraduate education, liberating students from traditional academic constraints. As we embark on this exciting journey, it's clear that FYUGP will revolutionize the way we learn, producing bold, curious, and visionary graduates.

RAGGING FREE CAMPUS: CHINARTS PRIDE

K.V. AFRAH

Chala: Chinmaya Arts and Science College for women has established a dedicated anti-ragging mechanism, prioritizing students' safety and well-being. Ragging is a menace that has long lasting physical and psychological impact. The College has adopted zero tolerance policy towards ragging, affirming its commitment to preventing and addressing such incidence.

To combat ragging, Chinmaya College has set up:

Anti-Ragging Committee

A dedicated committee comprising faculty members, students, and administrative staff to monitor and address ragging incidents.

Anti-Ragging Cell

A special cell to receive complaints and take prompt action.

Ragging Prevention Squad

A team of senior students and faculty members to monitor and prevent ragging.

Mentor-Mentee System

Senior students are assigned as mentors to junior students for guidance and support.

Through these measures, Chinmaya College aims to prevent and address ragging incidents, ensuring a secure and inclusive environment for all students. The college's proactive approach demonstrates its dedication to protecting students' well-being and promoting a culture of respect and inclusivity.

Anitha Haridas, HoD of BCA Department, stated that "Ragging hurts the self-esteem of your fellow beings. Say no to ragging and yes to healthy bonding."

By affiliating with a zero-tolerance policy towards ragging, Chinmaya College sends a strong message that such behavior will not be tolerated, and perpetrators will face swift and severe consequences.

KERALA'S RICH HERITAGE ON DISPLAY ADI-VEEDAN THEYYAM AT CHINARTS

K. AYISHA THAMANNA

Chala: Students of Chinmaya Arts and Science College are in for a unique cultural experience as they prepare to witness the traditional Adi-Veedan Theyyam performance, a centuries-old folk art form native to the region.

The event, scheduled for August 9th, will feature a mesmerizing performance of Adi-Veedan Theyyam, a variant of Karkkadaka Veedan Theyyam, performed by two young children. This ancient ritual is an integral part of Kannur's cultural heritage and showcases the rich traditions and customs of the region.

Karkkadaka Veedan Theyyam is a distinctive type of Theyyam performance that is widely practiced in the Kannur region of Kerala, India. This vibrant art form is known for its elaborate costumes, intricate rituals, and energetic performances, which are believed to bring blessings and prosperity to the community.

Honoring the Past: Students set to experience Kerala's folk art form; Karkkadaka Veedan Theyyam.

By exposing students to this traditional art form, the college aims to promote cultural awareness, appreciation, and understanding among the younger generation. The event promises to be an enriching experience for the students, offering a glimpse into Kerala's rich cultural tapestry.

The Karkkadaka Veedan

Theyyam performance is a testament to the region's commitment to preserving its cultural heritage and passing it down to future generations. As the students of Chinmaya College prepare to witness this spectacular event, they are sure to be inspired by the vibrant traditions and customs of Kerala.

ARADHANA DAY Chinarts Remembers Pujiyaguru S. GOPIKA

Chala: Chinmaya Arts and Science College marked the 31st death anniversary of Pujiyaguru Chinmayananda with Aradhana Day observances.

Observed annually on August 3rd or 4th, Aradhana Day marked the 31st death anniversary of Swami Chinmayananda. On this day, devotees came together to pay tributes, recite prayers, and engage in spiritual activities such as meditation, chanting, and studying his teachings.

Through his message of selfless service, spiritual growth, and the importance of living a purposeful life, Swami Chinmayananda continues to inspire people to walk on the path of spiritual enlightenment and self-discovery.

His legacy lives on through the Chinmaya Mission, which has been instrumental in spreading his teachings and values globally.

Aradhana Day remains an important occasion for devotees to come together and honor the memory of a spiritual leader who continues to inspire and guide millions.

The programme concluded with the teachers entering the auditorium and the principal presenting a gift to Mr. Sanal Padikkanam in appreciation of his efforts.

ANNA KSHETHRA
WHERE CLEANLINESS MEETS QUALITY

K. AYISHA THAMANNA

Chala: Chinmaya Institute's Anna Kshethra, the iconic cafeteria, has raised the bar for healthy and hygienic food options on campus. The name "Anna Kshethra" itself reflects the kitchen's commitment to purity and completeness, inspired by the Hindu goddess of food and kitchen.

The crowning glory of Anna Kshethra is its open kitchen, equipped with CCTV cameras, allowing students to witness the culinary expertise and cleanliness firsthand. This transparency ensures a safe and healthy dining experience, making it a popular spot for students, faculty, and staff.

Anna Kshethra offers affordable and reasonably priced vegetarian food options, making it accessible to all. The emphasis on vegetarian cuisine provides numerous health benefits, particularly for students, promoting overall well-being and development.

Key highlights

Open kitchen with CCTV cameras for transparency.

High standards of hygiene and cleanliness.

Affordable and reasonably priced vegetarian food options.

Spacious and comfortable seating area for relaxation and socialization.

Commitment to purity and completeness, inspired by Hindu mythology.

Anna Kshethra has become a benchmark for healthy and hygienic food options in educational institutions, setting a new standard for campus dining experiences.
